

Journal Publication Costs

At the present time, the department is willing to pay half of the publication costs for your research. Use the department credit card and when the charge comes through, half will come from your research account (20-account) and half will come from the department account (11-account). If you have any questions or would like some help, please talk to Jalene or a psychology receptionist.